What leadership qualities do you believe would make you a good chapter officer?

I believe that my leadership skills will greatly improve our monthly meetings. When a member is causing issues, I will take charge and keep our meeting productive and efficient as possible. Or when it seems we can't make a decision on a topic and it's dragging on, I will do everything I can to make the correct decision and keep the meeting moving. I have noticed our FFA chapter/officer team has lacked in these areas in the past.

What goals do I have for next school year?

a. FFA chapter

My goal is to make our FFA chapter better. I have noticed that we have been scraping by financially. I will try to do everything I can do to put more money in our account. By more fundraising, or charging on events. I will also try to end all of the finger pointing in our officer team. Also, I will try to get as many members as possible to attend FFA meetings and events. I have noticed our chapter is struggling to get members to events.

b. FFA member

My goal as a FFA member is to attend more of our chapters events. By attending more events will show fellow members that if I have time to attend events, they do too.

c. Personal goal

One of my main personal goals is to do well in school. I want to try the best I can on assignments and assessments to get the best overall grade possible in a class.

Why should I be selected for a officer position?

I feel I will make our FFA chapter better. Right now, as I said before our chapter is scraping by financially, and our morale is at a all-time low. Every fundraiser our chapter leaders are practically begging members to participate in the fundraisers. I will do a better job at convincing members to attend events and participate in fundraisers to have the most profits. I will also keep morale strong and not have people pointing fingers at each other and fill all of the open slots at events.
